Miscegenation Poses Touchy Rights Problem

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Perhaps the touchiest issue in all the legal literature of civil rights is "miscegenation," which lawyers define as "the intermarriage or interbreeding of whites and other races."

Nineteen states still have anti-miscegenation laws. Eleven such laws have been repealed since 1950. Of those remaining, most are in Southern or border states though Indiana and Wyoming still have them.

The Supreme Court Monday struck down Florida's interracial cohabitation law. But the decision — by Justice Byron R.
White — emphasized that marriage between races was not involved. Thus the high court sidestepped a ruling on the constitutionality of such laws.

There are indications, however, that the issue will soon be back.

The Florida law forbids a man and woman of different races from "habitually... (occupying) in the nighttime the same room."

White said the Miami Beach convictions of a Honduras-born Negro man and a white woman were being reversed on the ground that their constitutional guarantee of equal protection under the law had been abridged.

Nevertheless, Justices William O. Douglas and Potter Stewart, in a separate but con-curring opinion, clearly went on record as holding all laws of this type unconstitutional.
They said:

"It is simply not possible for a state law to be valid under

Kissinger ends talks with no sign of making p

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of State Henry A. Kissinger and Syrian Foreign Minister Abdel Halim Khaddam concluded their meetings Saturday with no sign they made any progress on restarting the Middle East peace negotiating process.

Khaddam came to the United States as part of President Ford's reassessment of the American Middle East policy ordered after Kissinger's step-by-step effort to arrange interim settlements between Israel and the Arab states broke down.

What effect Khaddam's visit will have on the reassessment is uncertain but it was clear after Saturday's breakfast session with Kissinger that the secretary was concerned over the slow pace of the talks.

"We reiterated as the President has stated repeatedly the United States ... would pose any stagnation and stymie," the secretary said.

This has become an American signal, one State Department official explained, of satisfaction over the attitude of the nations in the Middle East.

Kissinger was asked after breakfast if any progress had been made in the talks, with

Gunners camp in diplomat's yard

VIENTIANE, Laos (AP) — Three Pathet Lao soldiers armed with submachine guns camped in the yard of the top United States diplomat in Laos for the second day Saturday despite the Foreign Ministry's assurance they would be withdrawn.

The three soldiers, who belong to the dominant Communist-oriented faction in Laos, coalition government, sat in the shade and refused to answer reporters' questions.

When the troops appeared Friday on the grounds of the house of U.S. Charge d'Affaires Christian A. Chapman, the American Embassy protested to the Laotian Foreign Ministry. The ministry said the soldiers' presence in his yard, Chapman said, "We have taken it up with the Foreign Ministry and they said they would look into it. Things always take a little longer here."

In other Indochina developments:

—The North Vietnamese Communist party newspaper Nhan Dan said that a speech by Secretary of State Henry A. Kissinger, showed the United States "has not yet drawn the necessary lessons from its failure in Indochina."

Nhan Dan, quoted in an official Hanoi news agency broadcast, referred to Kissinger's speech Wednesday to the Japan Society in New York. The secretary said the United States would pose any stagnation and stymie," the secretary said.

This has become an American signal, one State Department official explained, of satisfaction over the attitude of the nations in the Middle East.

—Saigon Radio said the military school is in session when the students gradu-hotel in the heart of this provincial capital's downtown.

When firemen arrived at the Royal Olympic Hotel, they found people clinging to window sills and screaming for help along the upper stories of the seven-story brick building.

Firemen first rescued 11 persons on the ledges, then turned their attention to fighting the fire.

Two of 11 persons hospitalized were listed in serious condition. Three others were released after treatment, officials said. Authorities said about 50 people were in the year-old hotel when the fire broke out.

A fireman said the fire apparently started in a bedroom near a second-story stairway and a "draft, like a natural flue, took it right up to sixth or seventh floor."

Two of the dead were identified as Lorna Anne Minnis, of Vancouver, B.C., who was found in her sixth-floor room and Elizabeth Mae Towers, of Trail, B.C., whose body was found in a third-floor hallway the 63-year-old hotel.

The third victim was a year-old Victoria man, whose identity was not released. Causes of the deaths were official determined.
